

July 2020 Web-letter

Hello Members of the PJC.

We hope that you are well and able to keep out of harms way.

Last Friday the 17th July saw our 5th gig cancelled and the near future is not looking much better.

The committee is still having meetings via Zoom, to keep up with new developments and to plan for when we can SAFELY come out to play. Apart for my report we are ready to hold our AGM at fairly short notice. All though myself and our Secretary have not yet received any nominations for any positions on the committee, we will accept all comers prior to the start of the meeting.

Our search for a permanent venue continues, which is made more difficult with the introduction of the 2nd lock down. We have received offers of a couple of smaller halls that could serve the purpose for us to host a concert or gig if need be.

Sadly we have lost 2 more of our members.

R.I.P. Carol Gordon & Wally McGown

We sincerely send their families our condolences and best wishes at this sad time.

Hope you are all listening to lots of Jazz to keep your spirits up, there is still some good jazz on the radio if you have worn out your own collection.

Take care everyone (and of everyone,) if we all do the right thing we can get back to our gigs sooner.

Cheers Dave Forrest.
